BWYC crew sails to U.S. championship

BY D.C. HARVILL
A crew from Bay-Waveland Yacht Club claimed the U.S. Men's Sailing Championship

Friday in the 36th race for the Mallory Cup in Charleston, South Carolina.

Representing BWYC and the Gulf Yachting Association, skipper Dennis Stieffel and crew, Peter Merrifield and Bubby Eagan, took the Mallory by exactly 10 points ahead of the nearest contenders, skippered by Jasper Craig from the race's New England district.

The Mallory consists of a 10-race, round robin series in which each team races a different boat in each race.

According to Ann Stieffel, Dennis' mother, the team never lost the lead during the entire series.

She stressed that winning the race is a team effort with each team member carrying equal importance.

To be eligible for the Mallory, a skipper must be male and at least 18, while his crew can be either male or female.

The nation is divided into 10 Mallory districts with each being represented by its champion at the finals at Charleston Yacht Club.

Qualifying to race for the Mallory, Stieffel won the club elimination at Bay-Waveland, the GYA elimination at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans and the eliminations for Mallory area D at Mobile Yacht Club.

The Gulf Yachting Association consists of 33 member yacht clubs and affiliates, while area D consists of 166 member yacht clubs and affiliates.

The only other BWYC skipper to win the cup is Bubby Egan's brother, Marc, in 1984.

Stieffel's sister, Cindy, won the women's championship Adams Cup in 1977.

The only other GYA winners of the Mallory are Eugene Walit III, in 1953 and 1954; and G. Shelby Friedrich Jr. in 1964.

The Mallory Cup, a silver tureen, is named for Clifford D. Mallory, the first president of the North American Yacht Race.

Activities scheduled for summer's final fling

BY D.C. HARVILL

While marking the officially accepted end of summer, in addition to the expected barbecue and sunscreen, this Labor Day Holiday offers people a chance to contribute to a worthy cause and to "ooh" and "aah" at a fireworks display.

The Annual Muscular Dystrophy Telethon begins this evening at 6 p.m. and runs until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The local drive coincides with the national Muscular Dystrophy Telethon which will be broadcast on New Orleans channels 9 and 26.

The local telethon headquarters, covering Hancock and western Harrison Counties, will be at Waveland City Hall.

Muscular Dystrophy's local goal this year is $12,000. To make a pledge during the telethon call 467-4134, 467-9248 or 467-9249.

The Bay-Waveland Jaycees are holding a six-man-per team volleyball tournament beginning about 9 a.m. today at Ladner's Friendly Inn in Ansley.

Along with the tournament a turkey shoot will be held. Shots will be $2 each with a winner every 12 shots with proceeds going to the Muscular Dystrophy telethon.

Tonight at 8:30 the Waveland Civic Association is holding its "Fireworks Spectacular."

The fireworks will be launched from the Garfield Memorial Pier on the beach in Waveland.

The display is being sponsored with cooperation from the City of Waveland, the City of Bay St. Louis and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

A spaghetti dinner, benefiting the Hancock County Humane Society, will be this afternoon from 12:30 to 6:00 at The Good Life night club at 115 N. Beach.

TRAFFIC SNARL—Vehicles creep down one eastbound lane of Interstate 10 about 5 p.m. Friday as state troopers at the end of the bridge direct traffic. Trooper Herschel Ladner said motorists caused several accidents as apparently they ignored the warning signs and barricades in the left lane, which is closed until a bridge support can be repaired. ## Qualifying ends Friday

BY DENA BISNETTE

Friday is the qualifying deadline for the November general election as well as two special supervisor elections set for the same day.

Circuit Clerk Pamela Metzler said not all of the potential candidates who had picked up qualifying petitions for the local elections had returned them yet.

Those who still have petitions out must return them to her office at the Hancock County Courthouse by 5 p.m. of the last day to qualify.

Metzler said those who had returned petitions for the special elections included five prospective candidates in Beat Three and eight in Beat Four.

Those in Beat Three are Margaret Ladner, Howard Lizana, ELECTION—Page 3A

District governor to visit Bay Rotary

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Powell G. Ogletree, District 684 Rotary International Governor will visit the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club on Wednesday.

It will be the governor's annual visit to the local Rotary Club.

Ogletree, retired as Director of Alumni Affairs, a position he held since 1953, and Secretary-Treasurer of the University of Southern Mississippi's Foundation in October, 1987.

The District Governor has been very active in Rotary activities in his local club and also on a district level.

In the Hattiesburg Rotary

Club, he served as acting president 1965-66; president 1966-67; named "Best Rotarian" 1967-68 and again named 1971-72 receiving the "Hannah Plaque." He also has 27 consecutive years of perfect attendance.

On Rotary's district level Ogletree served as chairman Interact committee and on Interact committee for seven years; participated in several district conference and institute programs; served twice as governor designee and governor nominee; district governor 1979-80; chaired district Extension committee, three years while five new clubs were organized in addition to being district governor 1988-89.

He graduated from USM with a B.S. and M.A. degree; taught high school social science in Monticello, 1948-50; served as principal of W.C. Williams Elementary School, Greenwood, 1950-53, prior to his position at USM.

Ogletree and his wife, the former Frances Townsend, have three children, Frances Bess Palmer, Powell B. Jr. and Billy.

A veteran of three years in the military, Ogletree is active in his church and community.

He will also meet with the Bay Rotary Club's officers and directors on Tuesday night to discuss the club's plans and objectives for this Rotary year.

The Bay Rotary Club meets at noon on Wednesdays at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Bay man charged with capital rape

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

A Bay St. Louis man is lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and charged with capital rape involving a very young victim.

Tom Burleson, Bay St. Louis detective, said, "The subject's name is not being released at this time in order to protect the young victim."

The incident occurred on Thursday and the suspect was arrested on Thursday.

"The charge of child molesting was first brought against the suspect and then changed to capital rape after a medical report on the victim was received," Burleson stated.

The suspect was arrested by Capt. Robert Lee and Patrolman Gus Aime.

The Hancock County Welfare Department and Youth Court are assisting in the investigation, said Burleson who is in charge of the case.

The suspect is being held without bond.

Adult literacy problem contributes to state's economy

By Julie Mabius
In an effort to provide our youth with the best education possible, we can sometimes forget those who already have fallen through the cracks.
I am talking about the 400,000 Mississippians over the age of 25—30 percent of our adult population—and the 60 million adult Americans who cannot read or write at a functional level.

But my belief that we can win battle of adult literacy was reaffirmed recently.

There is a growing awareness that education does not begin and end between the ages of five and 18; that our job of educating citizens must continue throughout life.

That was one of the themes of an Adult Literacy Awareness regional meeting held recently in Tupelo by the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC).

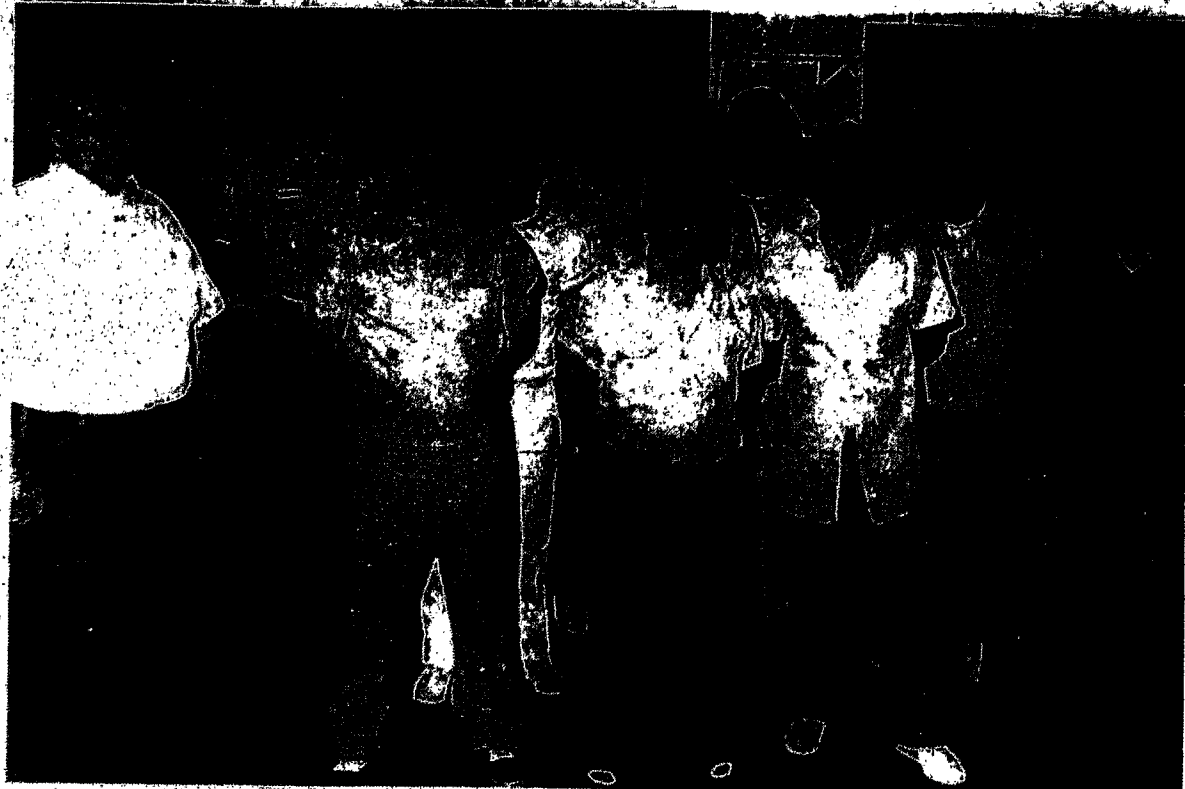

The commission has fought for years to improve the quality of life in 13 Appalachian area states including 20 counties in Mississippi.

The ARC's adult literacy initiatives are in line with a new thrust by the commission announced in Washington early this year.

While the Appalachian Regional Commission traditionally has concentrated on building physical facilities such as highways, the commission is now broadening its scope to include more non-construction programs.

The commission, which provides grants, has said that these will include projects to encourage more skilled workers, technology development and capital for business expansion and modernization.

The ARC understands that states' economies cannot truly be revitalized as long as so

EST CUBANO—Warden Jim Odom and jail officer Chuck Carver help process 10 Cuban detainees who arrived at the Hancock County Jail Thursday, bringing the number of detainees being housed in the jail to 27. The detainees, some of whom have been in detention in the States for eight years, came to the jail from a federal holding facility in Marksville, Louisiana. According to Odom most of them will be released and free to become U.S. citizens in 30 to 90 days. The county will receive $450 per day from the federal government for housing the new arrivals, Odom said.

Highway Patrol urges safe driving on weekend

Motorists who plan to travel in Mississippi this Labor Day weekend should also plan to obey the speed limit as the entire sworn force of the Mississippi Highway Patrol will be working to ensure that they do.
"Records show that in 1987 the Labor Day observance was the second most deadly holiday when 11 people lost their lives in automobile crashes," said Colonel David Huggins, assistant commissioner of public safety and Highway Patrol chief.

The deadliest holiday period of 1987 was the Thanksgiving observance when 14 people were killed in 11 separate accidents.

Huggins reports that five of the 11 fatal accidents which occurred during the Labor Day period in 1987 were one vehicle accidents. Two pedestrians were among the 11 killed last year.

"Our troopers will use surveillance aircraft during the weekend to identify speeding vehicles through the time-distance principle of detection," said Huggins.

Identifying speeding vehicles from aircraft involves clocking the number of seconds it takes a vehicle to travel between measured lines on the highway. There are more than 40 sites across Mississippi where troopers can detect speeding motorists from the aircraft.

"In addition to the use of air surveillance, each of the nine Highway Patrol districts will have stepped up manpower through federally sponsored 'call-back' speed enforcement details," Lt. Col. Billie T. Hughes, assistant patrol chief, said.
"The salaries of these officers, as well as the fuel for the aircraft that will be flown during the Labor Day period, is being paid by funds secured through the Governor's Highway Safety Program."

"We will have at least 13 details working to augment the regular trooper shifts. This will result in approximately 640 additional manhours being worked during the 78-hour holiday period," he said.

"By placing 100 percent of our troopers on the roads this weekend we will increase the visibility of our officers and thus deter lawbreakers," said Huggins.

CONSERVATIVE VS. LIBERAL

Who is more capable of dealing with the Soviets, conservative Republicans or liberal Democrats? On Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 9 p.m., Mississippi ETV will air "Resolved: The Right Is Better Able to Deal with the Soviets than the Left," a special "Firing Line" election-year debate.

Political notables Congressman Jack Kemp (R-N.Y.), former U.N. Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick, former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, former Senator George McGovern, former Senator Gary Hart, Congresswoman Patricia Schroeder (D-Colo.) and U.S. arms negotiator Paul Warnke will join "Firing Line" host William F. Buckley in the debate.

INFINITE VOYAGE

One of the longest, most arduous adventures in the human saga took place thousands of years ago when small bands of hunters wandered out of Siberia, crossed the Bering land bridge into Alaska and became North America's first immigrants.

"The Search for the Ancient Americans," airing Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. on Mississippi ETV, begins with that trek and follows history into the New World in this episode of "The Infinite Voyage" series.

Lyons seeks District Four Hancock Supervisor slot

Billie Fay Lyons announces her candidacy for District Four Board of Supervisors, Hancock County. She is a life-long resident of Hancock County and is married to Robert Lyons. They have five children, Karen Pyle, Kelly Schwartz, Sheri Rawls, Robert Lyons, and Shannon Lyons.

Lyons is a graduate of Kiln Consolidated High School and was a secretary for Hancock County Farm Bureau Insurance for 13 years. She is presently an independent insurance agent.

"In 1981 I was elected to the Hancock County School Board, three of those years I served as chairman of the board," she stated.

"Going into my sixth and final year of my elected term on the school board, I have gained many insights into the operation of county procedures, such as transportation, maintenance, the purchasing process and centralization of special services. I am familiar with working with one of the largest budgets in the county, with a total of 350 employees. In dealing with transportation, I am well aware of some of the problems we are facing in the county. This experience will be utilized in the right area," Lyons said.

"As we know, Hancock County has been projected as the fastest growing county in the state. I would like to be in a position to help guide that growth for the benefit of the county, and I have the experience to do it," she said.

'Reading Rainbow' promotes children's books

Five- to eight-year-old kids are lucky, because 'Reading Rainbow' is just for them. The latest and best books are the stars of this award-winning series, which has been called 'nearly perfect' by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting independent panel. It is broadcast at 9:10 a.m., Mondays and Fridays on Mississippi ETV.

"Reading is fun and exciting and a great way to open up new worlds of learning and imagination," says series host LeVar Burton. "That's our basic message on 'Reading Rainbow.' It's a message that beginning readers need to hear every day."

Based on a fast-paced, video magazine format, the show not only highlights one feature book on every program but also exposes children to new and fascinating glimpses of the real world. Typically the show goes on location with Burton to visit real-life people, places and events that are interesting to children.

The books featured on the series are chosen in conjunction with children's literature experts who look for quality children's literature, outstanding art adaptable to the screen and books that are appropriate for beginning readers.

Children's reading experts stress repeatedly that the single best way to encourage children to read is by reading aloud to them. That is precisely what 'Reading Rainbow' does every day, creating a special segment, usually seven to 10 minutes in length, in which the main feature book is read aloud by a celebrity narrator such as Bill Cosby, Gilda Radner, Peter Falk, Roy Clark, Isabel Sanford and James Earl Jones.

As the book is narrated, its illustrations are shown on the screen, so children can see as well as listen to the book's story line.

Three other books related to the show's theme also are reviewed on each show by children who have read the books—and who enthusiastically state their reasons for recommending the books to their peers.

Literacy.....

eracy programs and other interested Mississippians.

One can only be encouraged by comments such as those by Jacqueline Phillips, federal co-chairman of the ARC. She said: "This is not a brief fling for us. We're in it for the long haul and we hope you are. There are no problems too big or too tough if we work together."

But as with many difficult problems, adult illiteracy must be addressed on two fronts. It is not enough just to treat the symptoms; we must make sure that Mississippi children get off to a good start in life.

That is one reason I am working hard to address the problem of day care through our Child Care Task Force, which will be holding a series of public hearings throughout the state beginning this month.

Although our work is cut out for us, the signs are encouraging for much progress in the areas of day care and adult literacy.

Association seeks solution to teen's hang-out problem

By D.C. HARVELL

The Hancock County Recreation Association is holding a meeting Thursday seeking input from teenagers in an attempt to help solve their problem of no place to congregate.

The association is asking teenagers, their parents and local officials to attend the 7 p.m. meeting at the Jaycee Hall on St. John Street in Bay St. Louis, so a solution can be worked out that will be acceptable to the children, association vice-chairman Frank Baktis said.

A meeting held by the association this past Thursday drew only eight people including, parent of two teenage sons, Nancy Ncaise.

"These kids don't have a lot of money to spend at a teen center, they work and have to pay for their cars and insurance," Ncaise said.

She said she wasn't satisfied with Waveland's plan to have the teens gather at a parking bay near Buccaneer Park.

"We talked to people in the sheriff's department and they said it's really not safe. It's a place where they can play video games, just down the road, a big drug hangout," she said.

The association had suggested that the teens could use the parking lot of the Waveland Jones Building in Bay St. Louis, but the idea was all rejected because of the location and the lack of a paved parking lot.

The goal of the association Baktis said, is to set up a recreation program for the whole county, possibly by establishing neighborhood recreation councils.

"Maybe if we can get the parents and the kids together

Marijuana plants found in woods

By D.C. HARVELL

The Hancock County Sheriff's personnel Wednesday removed approximately 40 marijuana plants from a wooded area off Washington Road.

According to Investigator Glenn Strong, a resident of the area found the patch of plants and contacted the sheriff's office.

"We do have a suspect, but the case is still under investigation," Strong said.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Saturday a week ago I passed Bay Junior High and said to myself, they will never have the school ready for Monday's classes.

Later in the day I passed again and could see a lot of people working very hard on the grounds as well as the building.

Sunday morning it appeared there still was a tremendous number of things needing to be done before classes could begin the next morning.

Late Sunday evening I walked past the school and could hardly believe my eyes, as workers were putting the finishing touches all over the place, including the lawn.

We just wondered who were all of these workers and were told some were school administrators, teachers, students, football players, parents, National Guardsmen and husbands and wives of administrators, and teachers.

This was a great task, and it really shows how much can be accomplished when folks get together and put their minds to a goal.

I would like to personally thank and congratulate everyone who worked so hard in helping Bay Junior High's facility be ready for classes last Monday.

Don't forget the Fireworks Display tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier, Beach Boulevard, Waveland.

The Waveland Civic Association is the sponsor of the event in cooperation with the Hancock County Supervisors and the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

We know the firefighters are ready for their chores during the fireworks display.

We hope to see you at the fireworks display tonight.

Hancock Countians will again be able to participate in the annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon tonight and tomorrow.

The local drive sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association has Louis Smolensky as coordinator and it will begin tonight at 6 p.m. and run through 5 p.m. Labor Day.

Reports on the local drive, which will also include West Harrison County, can be viewed on New Orleans Television channels 26 and 9.

Waveland City Hall will be the headquarters for the telethon and residents can stop by and make a donation to the fish bowl.

It is hoped everyone will be generous to the very worthy drive.

Many folks will be traveling this weekend, so that means our highways and roadways will have more than a normal amount of traffic.

A big thing to remember is if you drink, do not drive, let someone not drinking drive.

Our State Troopers, as well as sheriff's deputies and city patrolmen will be on the roads today and tomorrow, checking for drunk drivers, trying to make our roadways safe for everyone.

We want everyone to have a good time, as well as a safe journey if they are traveling.

The drinking and driving also applies to operators of boats.

There are far too many boating accidents and many are alcohol related, like vehicular.

There will be many boats on our waters and it is hoped everyone will respect the other boaters.

Water Safety officers are also scheduled to be out in force this long weekend.

I hope to possibly get a little fishing in on Labor Day if the weather is right. I did get to enjoy some fresh fish last week, only thing I did not catch them.

Labor Day

In celebration of American labor, the men and women who keep the wheels of progress in motion. They're the backbone of this nation, contributing to our high standard of living and improving the quality of life. We're proud to honor America's work force... thank you for keeping America strong.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Was it just a legislative slip-up or did lawmakers get horns-woggled by the Mississippi Trucking Association?

In either case, counties in Mississippi this year stand to lose nearly $2 million in ad valorem tax revenues on semitrailers as a result of a glitch put into a bill passed by the 1988 Legislature.

It is all the result of an amendment which exempted semitrailers "used in interstate commerce" from local property taxes.

Possible impact of that amendment, stuck into a Senate bill from the floor during one of the hectic deadline days in the 1988 session, has recently been discovered by county tax assessors and collectors around the state.

Because the amendment did not define "interstate commerce," the State Tax Commission is taking the position, following an opinion from the attorney general's office, that it would exempt all semitrailers which occasionally go into adjacent states as well as long-haul truck lines.

One Tax Commission spokesman said, "As far as we can see this will cover virtually all semitrailers in the state." The amendment does not apply to the truck-trailers, which are taxed separately.

Sen. Walter "Bud" Graham of New Albany, who had sponsored the amendment, admits that he intended it only to apply to trailers of for-hire interstate carriers which have an Interstate Commerce Commission license and a certificate from the State Public Service Commission.

"We just failed to bring a whole code section forward in the amendment," Graham said. He blamed the faulty language on the Senate legislative drafting office.

But at least two senators charge that the fiasco was orchestrated by the Mississippi Trucking Association.

"The Mississippi Trucking Association crowed about their big victory in a flyer they sent out to their members afterwards," said Sen. Robert Crook of Ruleville. "I think it was one of the biggest ripoffs I've ever seen in the Legislature."

In its flyer, entitled "MTA Scores Major Victory," the trucking group had expressed "grateful appreciation" to Senator Graham, and also to Rep. Charlie Williams of Senatobia, who had handled the measure on the floor in the House.

The organization group had boasted that under the exemption for semitrailers, such units now would pay only a $10 registration fee and would save approximately $75 to $325 per unit in ad valorem taxes.

"Here at a time that the automobile owner is paying $400 to $500 for his car tag, these trailers which are tearing up the highways are going to get by with paying only $10," charged Sen. Nevin Sledge, of Cleveland.

"Most of our counties are already in a financial bind anyway, and we are going to take a good chunk of tax revenue away from them," Sledge added. "I believe they (the counties) are going to come down hard on the Legislature for passing something like this for a special interest group."

Sledge said that "when the amendment was presented to us it was right on a deadline. We were told that it would not cost anything, and that it would only affect two or three firms in his (Graham's) area."

Senators did not question the Graham amendment, he said, because "it was acceptable to Sen. (Bob) Montgomery, the chairman of the Finance Committee who was handling the bill. We usually go along with the chairman."

While Crook and Sledge had voted initially for the bill containing the semitrailer exemption when it passed the Senate, they were the only two members of the Senate recorded as voting against it when it was brought back from the House for final passage on concurrence.

Graham denied that he had proposed the amendment at the request of the Mississippi Trucking Association. "They did not even know I had introduced it," he said. "They are just tooting their own horn."

To add to the oxymoronic story behind the "unintended" semitrailer tax exemption, a move was made at the recent special session to clarify the amendment, but it became tangled in the legislative machinery and died.

"A lot of people might get defeated by this thing," Crook declared.

The President's Column

I want to discuss some good things that are happening around the world—a move toward peace that shows how successful this nation's commitment to peace through strength has been.

In the Persian Gulf, a ceasefire has been declared in one of this era's most horrible conflicts, the Iran-Iraq war. In Asia, half of the Soviet Union's invasion force has left Afghanistan and the rest are due out early next year. In Southeast Asia, Vietnam has promised to withdraw its occupation force from Cambodia.

In Southern Africa, we are brokering an agreement that may lead to the departure of all Cuban and South African forces from Angola. And we seem to have a more constructive relationship with the Soviet Union because of the Afghanistan withdrawal, human rights improvements and the INF Treaty that eliminates an entire class of U.S. and Soviet nuclear missiles.

Peace is gaining ground, but the gains have not just come in the last few months. It has taken seven and a half years of effort. We came into office convinced that the word peace is just an empty slogan unless the word strength follows hard upon it. Peace is a godly thing, but men are seldom godly. What we have learned is that peace is hard to achieve unless the forces of good have the strength to stand firmly for it.

Before we took office in 1981, the globe was reeling from an explosion of international turbulence. Our nation had neglected its defenses for years while some assured us that a passive America would enjoy a peace that was more, not less secure. But that is not how things turned out.

Soon we saw Vietnam invade Cambodia and the Soviet Union invade Afghanistan. Iraq and Iran began their war during this period as well. Over and over we Americans saw that when our nation does not maintain her strength, peace has no anchor in the world.

Our resolve was tested early on. The Soviet Union had deployed highly destabilizing, intermediate-range missiles in Europe and Asia—a threat to peace. With our NATO allies we went to the Soviets with a proposal: get rid of those missiles before we match them with missiles of our own. The Soviets turned us down. They were daring us to deliver, and we did. Our determination, and that of our allies, to see our missiles installed in Europe convinced the Soviet Union that the days of unilateral disarmament were over. And once the Soviets learned they could not intimidate us or cajole us into giving them the advantage, they came to the bargaining table. They did business because we proved we meant business.

We also meant business when we said we would not sit idly by as noble and brave Afghan freedom fighters resisted an invasion of their country. Our aid to the Afghan resistance has been of critical importance in the Soviet decision to go home. Once again, they did business because we proved we meant business. In Angola, Jonas Savimbi's UNITA has been fighting for 13 years against the Marxist regime and its Cuban protectors.

In 1975, President Gerald Ford wanted to help, but some in Congress felt our standing with the freedom fighters would only prolong hostilities. A law was passed that made aid illegal and the war dragged on. The Cubans multiplied. In 1985, Congress repealed the law and began supporting UNITA. Now the Cubans are talking of a pull-out. They are doing business because we showed them we meant business. We have proved that we can stand united as a country that means business—business for peace.

Our bipartisan policy in the Persian Gulf has been to stand firm against Iranian aggression and for the principle of free navigation. Now the Iran-Iraq war is coming to a close. Why? One reason, as retired admirals Elmo Zumwalt and Worth Bagley put it, was that the allied "naval operation, designed to be a deterrent, worked."

Contrast these successes with the tragic situation in Nicaragua. It has been almost two years since Congress has approved any military aid to the brave freedom fighters there. Here are the results—the Sandinistas come to the bargaining table making promises to bring democracy and end the war. And then they violate those promises with impunity. They kick out our ambassadors, oppress their people, arrest their opposition, muzzle and media and engage in vicious assaults on civilians to get them to stop aiding the freedom fighters. They feel free to do all this because they do not believe that we mean business. Our policy of peace through strength has been vindicated wherever it has been tried.

There is still time to turn the tide in Nicaragua. We should not be overly optimistic, for freedom still faces serious challenges, whether in South Asia or Eastern Europe. But the future for world peace is bright if we Americans continue to stand firm, stand tall and stand for freedom.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Where can our teenagers go?

To the Editor:

Hey, I thought we lived in America, the land of freedom, but yet our teenagers don't have the freedom to go anywhere in this town without getting harassed or run off by the police.

The teenagers went to the beaches, they ran them off the beaches, they went to McDonald's and Delchamps parking lot and the police run them off there, too.

Where do you have for the teenagers to go? All they are doing is looking for a place to stop and talk. They have nothing in Bay St. Louis or Waveland for them. They have to go either to Long Beach or Slidell. But who wants their children on the highways?

If the teenagers were causing trouble, I could see what they are trying to do. But they haven't done anything wrong.

They say (police) our teenagers are drug pushers and users because they are sitting out in the parking lots.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland need to get together and try to come up with something or somewhere for the teenagers to go. You can get money for a dog pound and a grant for a pier, but you can't get anything for our teenagers in our towns.

You parents with teenagers better wake up and see what's going on. We've got a good bunch of teenagers around here and they don't need to be harassed by the police.

If the police would get out and do their jobs of catching criminals and drug pushers and dealers instead of harassing our young teenagers around town we probably would have a better place to live in.

Thank you,
Mrs. Gerald K. Favre Sr.

Side Street Crossings

By Dena Bisnette

Moving is like taking a long trip in a small car during August—right after the air conditioner breaks and two weeks before receipt of the paycheck that will cover the repair.

My husband Joe and I moved this week to a house we were glad to get. The apartment where we were staying was only a quarter-mile from the house, but like that trip in August, the fun wasn't about to start on the road.

I don't know anyone who doesn't look unhappy when they talk about the process of moving. Mention moving and the person about to do so will happily tell you all about his destination, but his attitude will change if you discuss the process of getting there.

Most people I know can't afford professional movers, so they tell you horror stories about things like the antique chair that got broken falling off the borrowed pick-up truck that Brother-in-law What's-his-name was driving too fast.

We were lucky because Joe has a van. It could have been worse; I have a Pinto station wagon. Moving with the station wagon would not have been impossible, but it would have been difficult.

I know because I once moved the entire contents of an apartment in a Mustang II, which has a trunk six inches deep at the back part and four inches deep at the bumper. I didn't have any furniture but it was still considered a good trick.

I saw a better trick once. A sportswriter I used to work with moved the entire contents of an apartment, his wife and his cat in a Honda. He looked funny with that bed strapped to the roof, but he made it to Georgia without losing anything except his wife's temper.

Moving to the college dorm in 1979 taught me all about boxes. I went down to the grocery store and asked for two of the biggest boxes they had. The ones they gave me had been used for paper towels and disposable diapers.

I was thrilled. I got everything in one box. I learned the first important fact about boxes when my six-foot-five brother Dennis said it was too heavy: Thou shalt not pack more than thy back can bear.

Now I use small boxes, mostly liquor store boxes because they're stout and are perfect for dishes. They even come with the separators for the glassware.

We had about 42 boxes, but I could lift every one by myself if I had to do it. I even got efficient enough to label most of them with either the room the contents came from or with a generic contents description. According to that theory, boxes labeled "kitchen" or "dishes" don't have to be lugged all the way back to the bedroom.

Those 42 boxes showed me that we have a lot more stuff than I did when I was single, but fortunately I have a friend planning a yard sale in a few weeks.

I learned "Thou shalt label thy boxes" when I moved several times in one year.

First I moved about eight blocks from an attic apartment in a building that was becoming very run-down to a nice cottage in a rich lady's backyard, but I was only there a short time before finding myself unemployed.

I can't stand unemployment; it's boring. My solution was to put most of my possessions in storage and go back to college. That was the second move, into a sixth-floor room in the graduate section of Pulley Hall at USM. My roommate was a nice girl from Taiwan and the elevator worked sometimes.

By the end of the semester, I was running out of money but I had found a job in Bay St. Louis. The only problem was that the dorm closed the week before the job started. The solution was to move twice, first back to my parents' house in Laurel, then to Bay St. Louis.

Moving from Bay St. Louis to the Waveland apartment I just outgrew taught me another rule that might be helpful to pet owners who move: Thou shalt not move thy pets in the same trip as thy houseplants. That's especially appropriate if you have a canine who digs.

Moving must be done on evenings and weekends if the people who are relocating have jobs. That's another little quirk about moving; you have to live with your boxes around you for a week or so until you can get them unpacked.

It's a good thing I packed our toothbrushes in the top of the last box I moved, because there are a lot of other things I still haven't found.

Joe, have you seen my other set of keys? The one with the key to my car's gas cap? Maybe if the pets help, we can be unpacked by October.

RAMONA QUILBY

Life is always interesting at the Quimby house. After all, that's where "Ramona" lives.

The escapades of Beverly Cleary's spunky heroine, Ramona Quimby, come to life in a new 10-part series premiering at 1 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 11 on Mississippi ETV.

This first television adaptation based on Cleary's bestselling books about a spirited eight-year-old explores the continuing adventures of Ramona and her family. Traumas such as throwing up in school, welcoming a new baby into the family and realizing—too late—that tonight's "mystery meat" is tongue, are just a few of Ramona's challenges.

Seymour enters race for Beat 4 supervisor

Wilmer E. "Wimpy" Seymour has announced his candidacy for Beat Four supervisor.

Seymour, a resident of Bay St. Louis since 1955 who currently resides at 625 Old Spanish Trail, is a health and physical education instructor and athletic director at Bay Senior High School.

In addition, he has served as councilman-at-large on the Bay St. Louis City Council for the past 11 years.

The 55-year-old candidate also served two years in the U.S. Army and is presently a member of the Mississippi

National Guard.

He is a graduate of St. Martin High School in North Biloxi, Gulf Coast Junior College in Perkinston and University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

Seymour and his wife Mary Frances Seymour have three children, Steve Seymour, 25; Gina Seymour, 22; and Will Seymour, 16, and one grandchild, 10-month-old Summer.

He and his family are members of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

"During my 11 years in city government, I have been dedicated to meeting the needs of the people whom I serve," Seymour stated. "My record speaks for itself."

As a city councilman, along with many years of dealing with parents and residents, qualified me to serve as your supervisor.

As your next supervisor in District Four, I will work diligently to enhance the growth of this community by listening to the needs of the public.

Cowand announces candidacy for Hancock County supervisor post

Lisa LeBon Cowand of Bay St. Louis has announced her candidacy for the District 3 seat on the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Cowand, 33, of 1005 Dunbar Avenue, currently represents Ward 1 on the Bay St. Louis City Council. The Bay's first female elected official, she swept into office by garnering 96 percent of the votes in the June 1985 city election.

"Hancock County is my home. My husband and I will rear our children here. They are the best reasons I can think of for expanding my political interests now," Cowand said. The Bay native attended Loyola University and is a graduate of Louisiana State University Dental School as a certified dental assistant.

She is a member of the Hancock County Sand Beach Committee, the Hancock County Animal Control Commission

LISA COWAND

and Gulf Regional Planning Commission. She is a past president of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, a member of Junior Auxiliary, charter member of the Bay-Waveland Jaycees, board member of Mental Retardation Region IV, the Magnolias, and is on the governing board of Mississippi Women in Municipal Government. She served as City Council president from 1986 to 1987.

Her goals as a supervisor, Cowand said, would include paving the remaining dirt roads in District 3, centralizing maintenance for equipment repairs, supporting the board's efforts to construct a multi-service facility to house expanding county agencies and continuing and expanding programs and services for senior citizens. "Hancock County is the fastest growing county in this state population-wise, but percentage-wise we are still getting our share of the job market. I intend to work toward remedying that situation," she said. "Hancock County should not only be a great place to live, it should be a great place to work, also."

Cowand said she feels her varied experience on a number of boards and commissions has given her a clear understanding of the county's problems and needs.

"I am asking for public input," she said, "because I enter this campaign with my own ideas, but also an open mind, willing to listen and learn."

Cowand's husband, Norman, is employed at Borg-Warner Chemicals, Inc. The couple has three children, twins Norman and Brian, 7, and Lauren, 6.

Hancock Bank promotes Planchard, Lee

Walter Hinkle Jr., executive vice president of Hancock Bank, and James Ginn, senior vice president and Hancock County division manager for Hancock Bank, have announced several management changes in that division of the bank.

Stephen M. Planchard, assistant branch officer, has been moved from the Bay Main Branch to become the new manager of the Diamondhead Branch. Anita D. Lamb, branch officer and former manager of the Diamondhead Branch, will move to the Bay 90 Branch to assist with business development and loans. Joyce Z. Lee, assistant branch officer at the Bay 90 Branch has been promoted to manager of that branch, and Jerry Heitzmann, administrative assistant at Bay 90, will move to the Bay Main Branch to assist with loans.

Planchard joined Hancock Bank in June of 1982 and trained in several areas of the bank prior to being promoted to assistant branch officer in February of 1987. A graduate of the University of Mississippi School of Banking, Planchard also attended Loyola University is a member of the American Institute of Banking and has taken several courses through AIB. She is currently attending the University of Mississippi School of Banking.

Lee is also actively involved in community affairs, having served in various capacities with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, United Way, American Heart Association and the Bay-Waveland Jaycees. Lee and her husband, Michael, reside in Bay St. Louis with their two children.

Jerry Heitzmann, administrative assistant, is also a native of Bay St. Louis. A graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, Heitzmann joined Hancock Bank in January of 1984 and has worked in various lending capacities prior to this most recent move to the Bay Main Branch. His responsibilities at Bay Main will primarily involve lending and business development.

JOYCE Z. LEE

ty where he majored in banking and finance.

Active in community affairs, Planchard is a director of the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis, a member of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and has chaired various committees with the American Heart Association and the Diamondhead United Way. Planchard resides in Waveland with his wife Denise.

Planchard succeeds Anita D. Lamb as manager of the Diamondhead Branch. Lamb first joined Hancock Bank in 1965 as a teller, and after being away for several years she returned to the bank in September of 1980 to work in the Hancock County division. She was named manager of the Diamondhead Branch in 1981.

Until her retirement in January of 1980, Lamb will coordinate business development and lending at the Bay 90 Branch of Hancock Bank.

Joyce Z. Lee, assistant branch officer, has been associated with Hancock Bank since 1977. Prior to being named to her new position as manager of the Bay 90 Branch, Lee served in various lending capacities in the Hancock County division. A native of Bay St. Louis, Lee

Hawks take opener over Pearl River

Despite an opponent's touch-down on the opening kick-off, the Hancock North Central Hawks opened their 1988 season with a 22-7 victory over Pearl River, La.

Pearl River's only touchdown was on a 90-yard kick-off return by Ashley Broussard.

A successful PAT left Hancock seven points behind with only 30 seconds off the clock and plenty of time to recover.

Hancock's Ronald Doyle

blocked a Pearl River punt for a safety later in the first quarter, closing the score to 7-2.

The Hawks turned the game around with a one-yard touch-down run by Guy Graham, followed by a kick by Jeff Moran that posted a first-quarter score of 9-7.

Hancock remained in the lead for the rest of the game, which featured a scoreless second quarter.

Second-half action included two touchdowns for the Hawks, both of which were scored in the third quarter by Lawrence Galt. Galt scored the first one on a three-yard run. Moran's kick brought the score to 16-7.

Galt saved his long yardage for the end, scoring a touch-down on a 69-yard run. The PAT kick attempt was blocked, leaving the final score at 22-7.

Assistant Coach Tim Davis said the fourth quarter was scoreless, but the Hawks used a lot of younger players to give them game experience.

Coiled the team in running with 237 yards in 10 carries. The Hawks total offense yards were 450, with only 10 yards passing due to wet and muddy conditions.

The Hancock North Central

Defeated Pearl River to 110

total yards.

"I think everybody did a good job," Davis stated. "Overall, we were pleased with the victory.

Next week, the Hawks come home to host Pearl River Central.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at

Hancock North Central

stadium.

Coast Episcopal Raiders claim 25-2 victory over Bogalusa

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders football team have made some exciting changes in their football program for this coming season. The school has joined the Mississippi Private School Athletic Association and will now be playing 11-man football instead eight-man.

CEHS is in the south 1A District 8 of the MPSAA along with Columbia Academy, Live Oak Academy, Prentiss Academy, Pine Hills Academy, Prentiss Christian School, and Trinity Episcopal School.

Although the Raiders lost some key players with graduation such as quarterback Chris Riggs, tight end Todd Purcell, defensive lineman Jose DeSilva, and defensive back Walter Rode, the team is enthusiastic about the changes this new game will require says Raider coach Bill Riggs.

Riggs says the team faces some difficulties ahead. A small squad, only 12 are returning players, a demanding schedule, having to learn a completely new system, and the possibility of injuries to key players offer some real challenges to the team, says Riggs.

Strong points on the team, says Riggs, are returning lettermen Sterling Thibodeaux and Scott Covode. Both players provide experience and defensive strength. A new player to watch this season is junior Jamie White at tackle, according to Riggs.

Other players of note are offensive linemen Kevin Albrecht, Michael Kergosien, Justin Taylor, Scott Hourin, Jamie White and Beau Lambert.

In the backfield John Mount, Sterling Thibodeaux, Rea Montjoy and Clay Cazier execute the option offense. As receivers Hutson Lambert and Scott Covode provide speed on the outside, and Tommy Stevens and Sean Bell provide good hands on the inside.

The Raiders kicked off their season against Bens Ford

Academy of Bogalusa with a 25-2 win this past week. Riggs believes playing football teaches self-confidence and self-discipline and was proud of his team's first effort.

Rocks rally falls short in opener

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws second-half comeback effort fell a little short as the visiting Pope John Paul Jaguars emerged with a hard-fought 26-20 victory at Rockchaw stadium Friday evening.

The Jaguars struck for three second-quarter touchdowns as they capitalized on several key fumbles by the Rocks deep in SSC territory.

SSC Head Coach Ken Lyons regrouped his troops at half-time, and in the second half the Rocks settled down to play football. The Rocks scored in the third and fourth quarter to close within a touchdown, and were driving in PJP territory as time expired in the contest.

Early game jitters hurt the Rocks as Shannon Garrett fumbled at the 40-yard line on the Rocks third play from scrimmage.

The Jaguars drove down the SSC four yard line where QB Clay Carrell hit end Mike Goodnight for the touchdown. Andre Savoie's extra point was no good, and PJP led 6-0.

St. Stanislaus came back on their next possession on their first offensive play as QB Cedric sneak and with Savoie's extra point the Cougars enjoyed a 26-7 halftime advantage.

The second half belonged to the Rockchaws, as the Rocks began to control the line of scrimmage and the offense began to roll.

SSC took advantage of a short PJP punt and went to work at their 40-yard line.

The Rocks managed nine of their 12 first downs in the second half. Smith led SSC to two consecutive first downs before being intercepted by the Jags at the 39.

PJP began to show signs of fatigue as consecutive penalties brought the ball back to the Jaguar 19-yard line. An illegal use of hands penalty against SSC improved the Jags field position somewhat, but the Rocks defense forced Carrell to punt.

The Rocks took over on their 27 and immediately went to work as Smith hit Heitzmann in the flat for a 17-yard gain to the SSC 44-yard line.

A fullback screen to Vincent Bradley advanced the ball into Jaguar territory at the 43-yard line.

Another Smith to Heitzmann aerial found the Rocks with a first and ten at the Jaguar 25 yard line. Tight end Galen Smith then made a nice reception between two defenders at the three-yard line, and the Rocks had a first and goal.

Two plays later SSC scored when Smith hit Heitzmann on an out pattern, and with 44 left in the third quarter the Rocks closed the gap to 26-14.

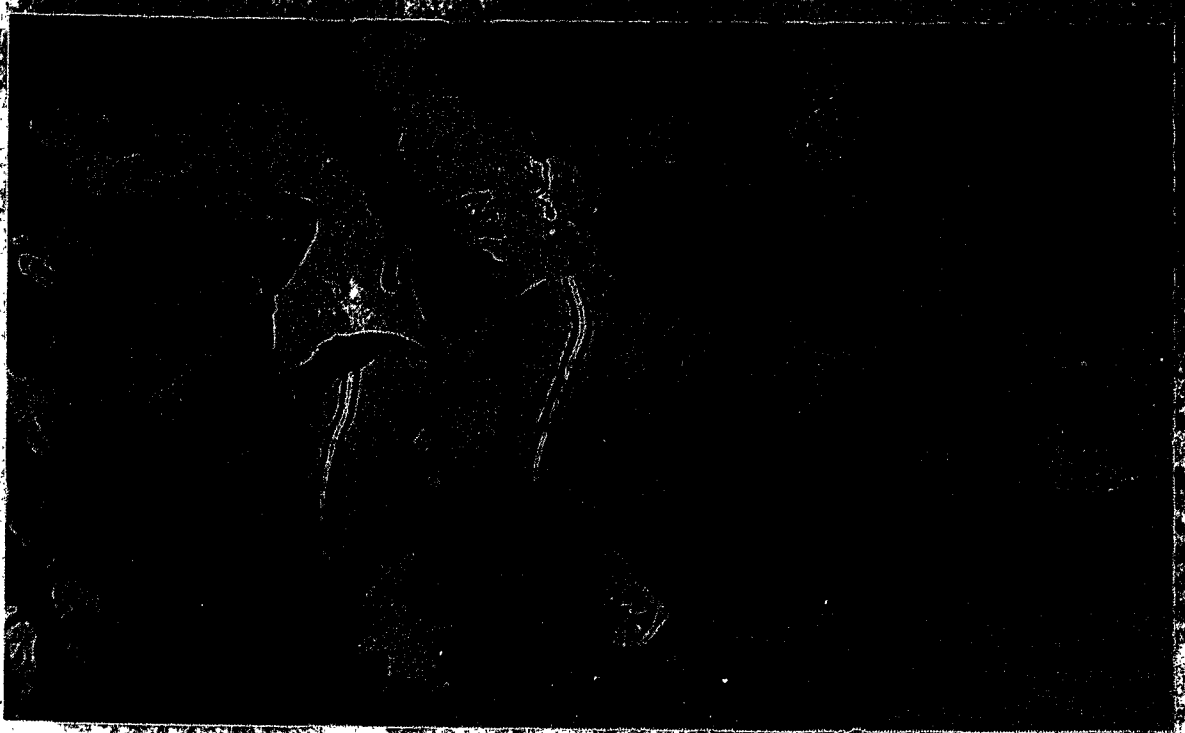

The Jaguars returned Heitzmann's kickoff to their 37 yard-line, but the Rockchaws had the momentum going their way.

The trap and screen plays which worked for PJP in the first half were not successful now. On a key third down play, defensive end Craig Sweeney smelled out a FB screen and tackled Reviere for no gain, forcing the Jags to punt.

Another low kick by Carrell gave the Rocks the ball at the SSC 37-yard line.

Smith went to the air but was intercepted by safety Carrell. However, the Rocks had the ball back four plays later as PJP could not move the football.

Ascani swept the right side for six yards, then Smith found

Garrett wide open for a 37-yard scoring strike with five minutes left to go in the game.

Heitzmann's extra point was wide right, but the Rocks were now playing with renewed confidence as they had come back to within one score, 26-20.

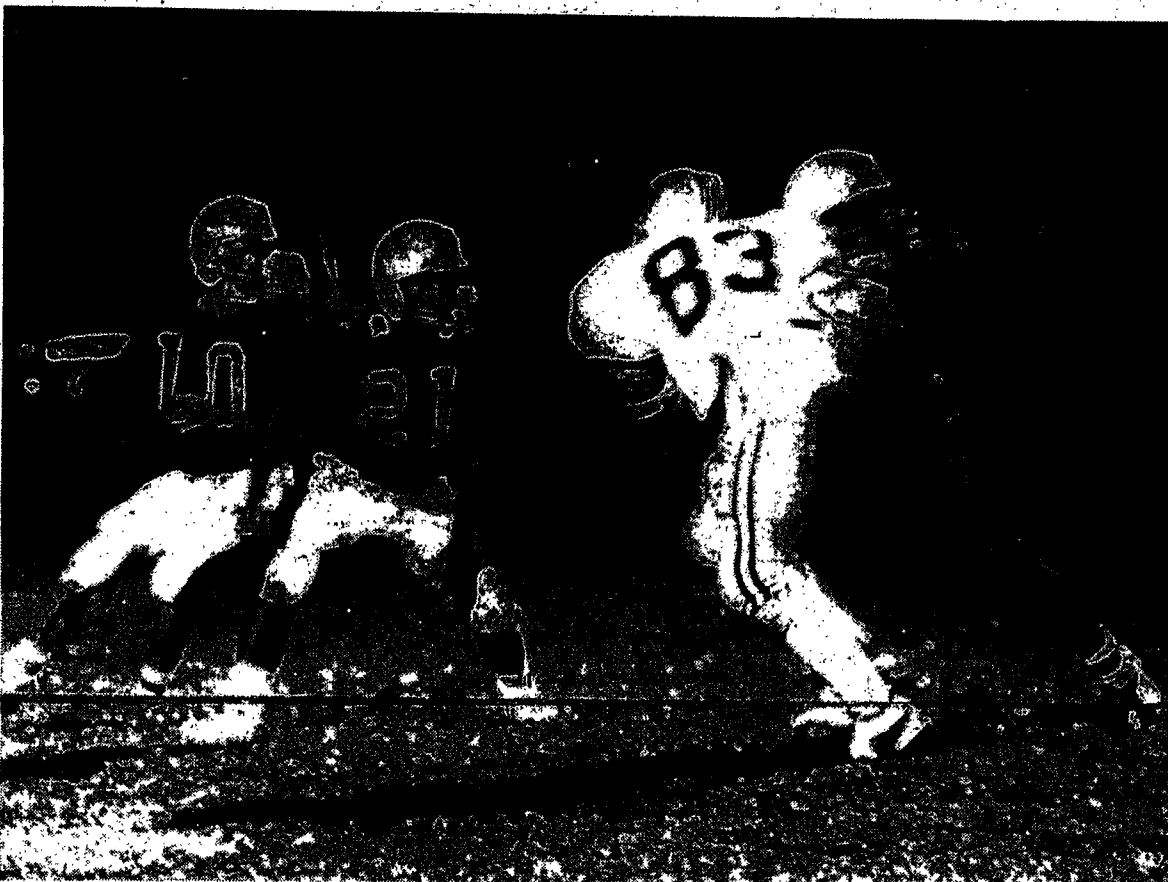

Time was now a factor. The Rocks had all of their time outs left, and if they could hold the Jaguars on four downs SSC would have to win the ballgame.

Reviere took Heitzmann's kickoff to the PJP 26-yard line, where he was brought down on a hard tackle by Dean Kelly. A holding penalty against the Jags on the kickoff brought the PJP 13-yard line.

QB Carrell caught the right side of the Rockchaw defensive line charging inside and raced around his left end for a key first down at his 31 yard line.

The shifty QB came right back with the same play, picking up seven yards to his 38. Facing a third and three with just under three minutes to play, TB Reviere picked up the first driving straight up into the middle of the line.

Smith hit split end Scott Heitzmann on a 68-yard bomb. Heitzmann's extra point was good and the Rocks took the lead 7-6 late in the first quarter.

PJP kept the Rockchaw defense off-balance as QB Carrell used RB Jeff Reviere on sweeps, FB Keith Ferguson on inside traps, and called his own number on bootleg plays around end.

Chewing up three and four yards a carry, the Jaguars drove down to the SSC four yard line where Reviere ran over his left tackle for the touchdown.

The Jaguars elected to try for two but was stopped as defensive linemen Jeff Taylor broke through to make the tackle.

With 11:18 left in the half Pope John Paul took a 12-7 advantage.

Savoie's kickoff was taken by Gino Ascani, but the ball squirted loose and the Jaguars recovered at the SSC 33-yard line.

PJP continued to attack the right side of the Rockchaw defense. Good defensive tackles by David Alexander and Noah Denson held the Jags to short gains.

Using misdirection, PJP used Ferguson and Reviere to drive down inside the 10-yard line, where QB Carrell carried down to the one.

Fullback Gary Davis powered over from the one with 5:52 left the half, and Savoie's extra point increased PJP's lead to 19-7.

Lightning struck twice in a row as Ascani again fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Jaguars had another excellent scoring opportunity from the Rockchaw 20-yard line.

The Rockchaw defense stiffened and did not allow the Jaguars a first down. Savoie tried a field goal from the 22-yard line which was wide right, but the Rockchaws were guilty of roughing the kicker.

This gave Pope John Paul an automatic first down at the SSC eight yardline. Three plays later Carrell scored on a QB

Rocks

But the Rockchaws finally got a well-deserved break when Sean Kelly recovered a fumble by a St. John player on the 42-yard line with 1:03 left in the game.

Knowing the Rocks had to pass, Pope John Paul sent everyone at Smith as he dropped back, and sacked the SSC quarterback at his 35-yard line, forcing the Rocks to use their second time-out.

Smith then hit Ascani with a screen pass, and the tailback battled to the 43-yard line as the Rocks used their last time-out.

Coach Lyons instructed his quarterback to call two plays in a row. Smith hit Heitzmann on an out pattern in PJP territory, but Heitzmann was tackled in bounds and the Rocks could not get off another play as time expired.

An exhausted Pope John Paul hung on to a 26-20 victory over the Rockchaws.

Despite wet and muddy field conditions, Smith threw for 216 yards and three touchdowns. The Rockchaws had more total offense than the Jaguars as they racked up 267 total yards to the Jags' 258.

"A lot of our mistakes were typical first-game errors," Coach Lyons told his squad after the game.

"We have to start executing if we're going to have the season that we are capable of having," continued Coach Lyons.

"We have a lot of young, inexperienced people at key positions. When you give a ball-control team like Pope John Paul an opportunity to control the ball, you can expect this type of game. And the fact that they had two game-type scrimmage victories under their belt helped their confidence," concluded Coach Lyons.

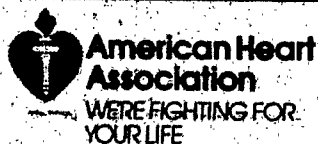

Next Friday the Rockchaws travel to Milner Stadium in Gulfport to face the St. John Eagles, whom the Rocks defeated 22-21 in a thrilling contest last season.

MRS. MARK WILLIAMS PALMER

Palmer-Gex

The marriage of Miss Leslie Grace Gex and Mr. Mark Williams Palmer was solemnized Friday, August 26 at St. Pius X Church in New Orleans.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Marion Gex Jr. of Waveland and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Michael Palmer Jr. of New Orleans.

The Reverend Monsignor Arthur Screen celebrated the Nuptial Mass in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride wore a tea-length gown of white battenburg lace and carried white long-stemmed roses and the Rosary carried by her mother on her wedding day.

Attending the couple were Nancy Hamilton Gex, the bride's sister and Edwin Michael Palmer III, brother of the groom.

The bride, whose mother is the former Miss Nancy Hamilton Gould, was graduated from Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis and Louisiana State University, where she received a bachelor of arts degree in journalism and was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity.

She was presented by the Gulf Coast Debutante Society and is employed by the firm of McGlinchey, Stafford, Mintz, Cellini and Lang.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Sandford Gould of Panama City, Fla. and Mrs. Lucien Marion Gex of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. Gex.

The bridegroom, whose mother was formerly Miss June Marie Williams, was graduated from De LaSalle High School and attended Louisiana State University. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is employed by Ato Z Paper Co.

He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alford Williams of Memphis, Tenn. and the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Michael Palmer.

A reception and luncheon was held by the parents of the bride at the Lake Vista home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Palmer III.

Following a wedding trip to Vancouver, B.C., San Francisco, and Lake Tahoe, the couple will reside in New Orleans.

Johnson-Cuevas

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the July 30 marriage of Stephanie Ann Cuevas and Keith Erick Johnson, both of Bay St. Louis. The Reverend Kenneth G. Ramon-Landry celebrated a Nuptial Mass and officiated at the afternoon double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Cuevas of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mrs. Karin Brossette of Waveland and Mr. Richard E. Johnson of Pilot Knob, Mo.

Musical selections were presented by organist Ollie McKenna and soloist Sandy Rhodes.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and crystal organza. The satin bodice was appliqued with venise lace and embroidered with seed pearls and iridescents and featured a sweetheart neckline enhanced with full puffed sleeves formed of filament edged ruffles. Crystal organza overlaid the satin skirt and was strewn with lace appliques with filament edged ruffles forming the hemline, extending in tiers down the back of the gown and encircling the cathedral train.

Her complementary headpiece of pearl sprays and crystals featured a ruffled pouf at the back with tiered waist-length veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade of white silk roses, satin honeysuckle, jasmine, stephanotis, almond blossoms, sparkle baby's breath, peach alstroemeria, lily-of-the-valley and pearl spray, with pigot streamers.

Cheryl Iwanczyk of Slidell, La., aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. Maid of honor was Stacy Carter of Bay St. Louis.

Bridesmaids were Amy Compretta of Bay St. Louis; Donna Palmisano of Roswell, Ga.; April Crosby of Deerfield, Fla.; Mary Rayborn of Pensacola, Fla.; Jelinda Barnes of Oxford, Miss.; and Kim Birch of Waveland, sister of the groom.

Jaime Necaise of Waveland was flower girl. Miniature bride was Amanda Johnson of Gulfport, niece of the groom.

The attendants were identically attired in coral matte taffeta gowns, each with dropped V-waistline and full skirt. Filament edged ruffles formed a portrait collar and extended down the back of the gown to a graceful butterfly bow.

They carried nosegays of peach satin tigerlilies, ivory honeysuckle and berry spray and peach ribbons.

Ricky Johnson of Gulfport, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Kenny Benigno of Hattiesburg; Curtis Thomas, Scott Carter and Stephen Cuevas, brother of the bride, all of Bay St. Louis; Mike Barnes of Oxford; Kirk Johnson of Waveland, brother of the groom; and Milt Cuevas of Bethlehem, Pa., cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Van Fayard, Jerry Head, Dennis Rhodes and Ricky Ladner, all of Bay St. Louis.

Peyton Cuevas and Harrison Cuevas of Lafayette, La., cousins of the bride, were ring bearer and miniature groom, respectively.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Jourdan River Shores Club House.

On return from a wedding trip to Freeport, Bahamas, the couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The first general meeting of the 1988-89 season of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 8 at the Garden Center, 114 Leonard Ave., Bay St. Louis at 2 p.m. Mrs. Thomas Tompkins, president, and the newly elected executive board will review plans for celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club to be held in October.

HELPING OTHERS

VOLUNTEER BLOOD PRESSURE SCREENERS—Registered Nurse Pere Cabibi of Waveland, standing, has manned a volunteer blood pressure screening station in that city since 1976. Associated with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), supervisor Cabibi and co-workers presently operate out of the American Legion Post 77, off Cole-

BY JANET MCQUEEN
First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) classes will be taught by Red Cross instructors, according to Jeanne Garcia, Hancock County Red Cross Director.

The CPR class will be held in the conference room of the Civil Defense Department, located in the old Hancock County Jail September 12 at 7 p.m.

Instructor will be Mark Mason. Pre-registration is necessary and classes are open to the public, 16 years or older. The cost is $10 per person and a step-by-step instruction booklet will be provided.

First Aid will be taught at the Hancock County Library on Highway 90 on September 10. Instructor Dave Thompson will teach class members basic first aid information, including how to stop bleeding, apply a splint and assist accident victims.

Pre-registration is necessary. The cost is $10 per person for adults over 16 years of age. Both classes will offer tests upon completion of the courses, which will insure Red-Cross Certification.

For more information, phone Garcia at 467-7609. The Red-Cross office is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m.-noon.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

Tops No. 233 Waveland met August 30. Top loser of the week was Cora Blackburn. Meetings are conducted each Tuesday at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue at 6:45 p.m. Weigh-ins begin at 6 p.m. until meeting time. More information may be obtained by contacting Chris at 467-7716 or Sandra at 467-9271.

Here is a hint on how to make your waistline appear slimmer. Avoid belts. Wear princess or A-line skimmer styles. If you like a belt, wear a very narrow one made of the same material as your dress, or buy one which matches the color closely. Next week another instant fashion trick while you are working those pounds off.

PASS CHRISTIAN

Tops 213 Pass Christian met Aug. 30. Top loser for the week was Mary Alice Ladner. The club will be hosting an open house meeting Sept. 20 and invites anyone interested in weight control to visit. Garage and bake sale will be held Sept. 9 and 10, 8 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Meetings are every Tuesday at the Pass Christian Library on Hiern Avenue between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Weigh-ins are between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m.

The best loser for the month of August was Melonie Waltman. For information, call Jeannie Livings at 452-9706 or Gayle Arnold at 467-7198.

ON ETV

JAZZ AND BLUES

Nat King Cole. Earl "Fatha" Hines. Dinah Washington. Joe Williams. The names read like a Who's Who of jazz, blues and big bands, and these legends all grew up in the vicinity of Chicago's 47th Street.

"Precious Memories: Strolling 47th Street," an hour-long tribute to the music and legendary talent of this amazing neighborhood, airs Monday, Sept. 5 at 10 p.m. on Mississippi ETV. The Program recalls the era when pioneers of jazz and blues ruled the 47th Street night clubs and the South Side's Regal Theater.

PIONEERS OF SURGERY

"Nova," PBS' acclaimed science series, begins its 16th season with a four-part series tracing the history of modern surgery. "Pioneers of Surgery," airing on Mississippi ETV at 8 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 6, with "The Brutal Craft," covers the triumph of modern surgery as it advances from the brutal, bloody—and usually fatal—craft of 150 years ago to the life-saving profession of today.

IN BRIEF

The Mississippi Associated Builders and Contractors announce its 1988-89 Construction Craft Training Program. MABC is now accepting applications for apprenticeship training in carpentry, electrical, plumbing and sheet metal. Anyone interested in this apprenticeship training program should contact the MABC Education Department at 1-944-0421 or the Mississippi State Employment Service.

VFW Auxiliary Post 5931 Pass Christian

The August meeting of the Pass Christian Auxiliary to VFW Post 5931, Cecil R. Ruddock was held at the VFW hall. President Shelia Ladner opened the meeting with 20 members present.

The council meeting in Jackson was attended by Ladner and delegates Patricia Necaise, Inez Bourdin, Lorena Scarborough, Agnes Harshbarger and Norma Cantrell.

The mid-winter conference will be held in Biloxi this year. The next meeting will be held Sept. 8 at 7 p.m.

The auxiliary sponsored a dinner-dance honoring the recent installation of officers on Saturday, Aug. 27. A delicious meal, cake, tea and coffee was served.

Marshall named meritorious executive

Bob Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marshall of Diamondhead, manager of Shuttle Project Office in Huntsville, Ala., has been selected for the Presidential Rank of Meritorious Executive.

The award is in recognition of the sustained accomplishment and technical performance in planning and executing the Marshall Space Flight Center Shuttle projects and especially for specific contributions for Shuttle return to flight activities.

For his contributions to the successful development of the Saturn V Moon Rocket, Marshall was awarded the NASA Exceptional Service Medal in 1969 and Outstanding Leadership Medal in 1981.

He was elected Fellow of the Astronautical Society in 1982.

MILITARY MENTION

LT DEGEORGE

ON ETV

SPOLETO FEST

'Art's the Thing' as ETV presents a two-part look at the 1988 Spoleto Festival, USA, which features new and innovative talent set against the backdrop of South Carolina's historical city of Charleston, beginning Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Among the performers featured at this year's Spoleto Festival are Twyla Tharp Dance Company, the Irish theatre group Laughing Gravy, jazz pianist Michel Petrucci and flutist Paula Robison.

MEDJUGORJE

In June, 1981, six children in Medjugorje, Yugoslavia, claimed to have seen a vision of the Virgin Mary. The Continuing alleged apparitions have attracted nearly five million Catholics to the Rural Village and have created dilemmas for officials of the Catholic hierarchy and the socialist state.

'The Madonna of Medjugorje,' airing Sunday, Sept. 4, at 2 p.m. on Mississippi ETV, examines this religious phenomenon and its sociological implications.

Big B Drugs earnings rise

Big B, Inc. announced record sales and earnings for the 26 and 12-week periods ended July 30, 1988.

For the 26-week period earnings rose 28.7 percent to $4,207,000 from $3,268,000 in the prior year while earnings per share rose to $.57 from $.42. Net income was bolstered by a one-time credit of $503,000 resulting from the downward adjustment of previously deferred income taxes to current tax rates.

For the 12-week second quarter, net income rose to $1,479,000 up 11 percent from $1,333,000 in the prior year. Earnings per share rose to $.20 from $.17 previously.

Sales for the 26-week period rose to $127,781,000 up 5.8 percent from the prior year while sales for the 12-week second quarter rose .8 percent to $57,616,000.

The sales gains occurred despite the loss of sales from the disposal of the company's five high volume combination food and drug stores in the fourth quarter or the prior year.

In a continuing expression of confidence in Big B, the company's board of directors declared a dividend of $.04 per share payable Sept. 16, 1988, to shareholders of record on Sept. 6, 1988. This dividend of $.04 is a 33 percent increase over that paid in the same period of the prior year.

The company's expansion continued with the opening of stores in Chattanooga, Tenn. and Jackson, Miss., bringing the total store count of 196 units. During the second half of this fiscal year the company plans to open over 15 additional units.

Big B currently operates stores in the states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Tennessee.

EPA sponsors Gulf resources management office at Stennis

Robert E. Layton Jr., and Greer C. Tidwell, Environmental Protection Agency regional administrators, have signed an agreement to establish a comprehensive strategy for managing and protecting the resources of the Gulf of Mexico and the related coastal area.

The Gulf of Mexico Program will establish full regional cooperation and coordination of key federal, state and local agencies, academia, private industry, and public groups which presently share significant coastal and marine resources.

"Looking at the Gulf as a whole," Tidwell said, "will enable us to deal effectively with problems that cross state lines and other jurisdictional boundaries."

The two regions have jointly established a Gulf of Mexico Program field office at the John C. Stennis Space Center near Bay St. Louis. The office will be directed by Dr. Douglas Lipka, formerly of the Office of Research and Development at EPA headquarters.

"The program seeks to bring sound management to the many economic and environmental demands we place upon this valuable resource," said Layton.

Under the program, EPA will organize an institutional framework of regional and national experts in science and management who will work with the private and public sectors to evaluate stresses and problems which impact the health of the Gulf, which in recent years has shown signs of environmental deterioration.

A comprehensive management plan will be developed to deal with such problems as:

Nutrient Over-Enrichment—An increase in land-derived nutrients such as phosphorus and nitrogen are causing phytoplankton blooms that deplete the dissolved oxygen content of the water.

Noxious blooms, called red tide, may also be related to nutrient over-enrichment. A red tide outbreak in 1966 covered 200 miles of the Texas coastline and killed an estimated 2.2 million fish.

Toxics and Pesticides—The economy of the Gulf Coast depends heavily on many industries which release a variety of organic compounds and process by-products. These materials may be toxic to some marine species and to humans.

Habitat Degradation—Habitats and nursery grounds for shrimp, crabs and finfish are disappearing rapidly because of the alteration and destruction of marshes, mangroves, and seagrass beds.

Freshwater Diversions—Increasing population demands are cutting into the Gulf's freshwater supply. Normally, the Gulf receives half of the nation's freshwater runoff. Freshwater is essential in maintaining salinity distributions and flushing rates in estuaries along the coast.

Public Health—Reduced flushing rates mean that many of the toxic chemicals and wastes currently disposed of in the estuaries may remain there longer and at higher concentrations in the future. Increased waste loadings produce an increased risk of diseases.

Nineteenth century music featured on 'Concert Hall'

Mississippi musicians perform compositions from the early 19th century on the next edition of 'Mississippi Concert Hall,' Thursday, Sept. 8 at 9 a.m. with a rebroadcast Sunday, Sept. 11 at 1 p.m. on PRM.

Franz Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat is performed by Sinfonia Mississippi, Colman Pearce conducting. This performance was recorded May 14, 1988, at Briarwood Presbyterian Church in Jackson.

Pianist Logan Skelton performs Chopin's Polonaise-Fantasia, opus 61 at the Fourth Annual Mississippi Piano Showcase at Mississippi State University on June 23, 1988.

The final selection features Eric Knight conducting the Tupelo Symphony Orchestra in his arrangement of 'Beautiful Dreamer,' a medley of songs by Stephen Foster. This performance was recorded April 23, 1988.

'Mississippi Concert Hall' is produced by William Fulton.

Public Radio in Mississippi, a division of Mississippi ETV, is broadcast locally on FM frequency 90.3, Biloxi.

THE HANCOCK COUNTY LAWYERS' Association president Albert Biehl presents certificates of appreciation to John Genin and to Phil and Gail Nami. The association, with more than 120 members, honored Genin, of Favre, Genin and Seafide Law firm, for his assistance in getting the association's charter; and to the Namis for allowing the association to use their business, the First Precinct Restaurant and Lounge, for their meetings. The nonprofit association hopes to promote better understanding and working relationships between law enforcement agencies and between the agencies and the public. ## God's tiny ego

By Fr. Jerome LeDoux, SVD

"He had a cigar as big as God's ego!"

Spoken by a radio comic, those words intend a hyperbole which is a gross misrepresentation of God.

There is only one person anywhere who is entitled to a genuine claim to an ego of big proportions. Ironically, that one person, of all the denizens of the universe, has an ego which is so small that our feeble minds cannot understand it at all.

Totally independent, incredibly alone though not lonely, so knowing as to be the fullness of knowledge, so powerful as to be the source of all being and energy, God needed nothing or no one. Yet, out of sheer goodness, God created us to share divine life.

"Yes, God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him may not die, but may have eternal life. God did not send the Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him." (John 3:16-17)

In human terms, such a lack of ego makes no sense at all. Why did God bother in the first place? There was never any need of our piddling praise, thanks and worship.

To make matters even more baffling, God's Son came in such a manner that no human being, not even the most Hollywoodish, would have dared dream up such a scenario:

"Though he was in the form of God, he did not deem equality with God something to be clung to. Rather, he emptied himself and took the form of a slave, being born in the likeness of men. He was known to be of human estate, and it was thus that he humbled himself, obediently accepting even death, death on a cross." (Philippians 2:6-8)

God's ego had been wiped out at this point, considering that God's Son became a slave, adopting every deficiency and weakness of human being except their sinfulness.

Believe it or not, the scenario became even stranger, enough to numb the wildest imaginations of Hollywood. The divine Son to be born a human was not to enjoy the most common circumstances of birth which allow us to hold our head up a little.

By an apparent freak of circumstances, but more by divine design, the lot of his birth fell among cattle in a dank, dark, chilly cave. None of us suffered that indignity at birth.

Where was the ego of Jesus?

LOCAL BRIEF

BWGC BOARD MEET

The first meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club executive board of the 1988-89 season will be Tuesday, Sept. 6, 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ruth Logan, 108 Lafitte Drive, Waveland.

when, by courtesy of his earthly father, he had to flee his native land while still a babe?

For one who was about to walk on water, his years as a carpenter's apprentice did little to build a great ego.

Neither does God's world, the Bible, do much for the ego of Jesus, certainly not with its heavy pall of silence about his life from the age of 12 to 30. Didn't anything worthwhile happen?

If he had any ego, surely Jesus would have sought out the rich and the influential instead of the halt, the blind, the deaf, the destitute, the diseased and the wayward.

God's tiny ego comes through loud and clear in every word, every move of his Son on earth:

"Here is my servant whom I uphold, my chosen one with whom I am pleased... A bruised reed he shall not break, and a smoldering wick he shall not quench, until he establishes justice on the earth." (Isiah 42:1 and 3-4)

Led as a lamb to the slaughter, the gentle ego of Jesus mirrors the ego of God who uses human agents to beg us time and again to reform our ways and to accept God's fullness of life. If God had an ego, we would all be in deep trouble. Thank you, Lord.

Retail operation affects independent dealers

BILOXI—Jim Sumrall has laid off all but two of his workers. By month's end, they will be looking for work too, as Sumrall and his wife lock the doors of their appliance store for the last time.

After more than 15 years of running the Appliance Mart, Inc., the Sumralls are going out of business—the victims, they say, of unfair competition from Mississippi Power's retail appliance shops as well as the generally poor Coast economy.

"The local economy hasn't helped any, but we've ridden out hard times before," Sumrall said.

"For us, the final nail in the coffin was unfair competition. The utility's purchasing and marketing power has become such a large factor, independent dealers don't have a chance of surviving even in good times."

Sumrall is not the first Gulf Coast appliance dealer to charge the utility with unfair competition. Nor is he the first to close up shop. At least 10 other small dealers along the Coast have folded in the last two years, citing as a major factor Mississippi Power's retail appliance operations in its 23-county service area.

Though the dealers' efforts to win regulatory or legislative relief have not been successful, they are not giving up.

At a meeting here earlier this month, Sumrall and seven other local dealers enlisted the support of the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's largest small-business advocacy organization.

Don L. Robinson, NFIB's regional director of state programs, emerged from the meeting saying he was "appalled" by the situation described by the dealers. "This is one of the most blatant misuses of monopoly power that has come to our attention in any state," Robinson said.

"In many states, weak laws and powerless commissions have allowed utilities and other quasi-governmental or monopolistic firms to exploit unfair advantages in the private sector," he said.

Some retail utility companies form holding companies or satellite operations to run their involvement in non-utility merchandising.

But that, states Robinson, is simply "an attempt to put a good face on the enormous marketing powers of these monopoly operations at the expense of small private outlets who have to compete in the open marketplace."

NFIB/Mississippi represents nearly 5000 small business owners throughout the state and more than a half-million nationwide.

Elvis' influence on gospel music studied at Ole Miss

Elvis Presley fans have always been eager to explore every facet of the life of the "King of Rock 'n' Roll." However, one aspect of his career has been neglected: his association with gospel music.

"Writers and fans have tried to examine the phenomenon of Elvis, but his impact has been so complex. One side that has received little attention is the long-standing relationship between Elvis and gospel music," said Cheryl Thurber, editor of Rejoice! magazine.

This neglect, however, is about to be redressed by the current issue of Rejoice!—the gospel music magazine published by the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at The University of Mississippi and Baylor University.

"The fact that Elvis loved gospel music has been mentioned many times. But few accounts have gone beyond that simple statement," said Ms. Thurber. "Elvis was influenced by gospel music. He had gospel groups as his backup singers, and they toured with him when he gave concerts. When Elvis wanted to relax or when he wanted to warm up for recording sessions, he used gospel music to get him in the mood."

"He sang gospel music and his own personal record collection—the records he actually listened to—always contained a large portion of gospel records, particularly Southern Gospel."

Thurber says that Presley's connection to gospel music is relevant because of the overall impact Elvis had on popular music. "Inspirational gospel is a major type of gospel music put out by people not primarily known as gospel performers," says Thurber.

The theme of this issue of Rejoice!, Thurber says "concentrates on the idea of how Elvis, as a popular performer, exposed a great number of people to gospel music—people who would not otherwise have been interested."

Thurber says Elvis' connection with gospel was far greater than she first realized. "He was very involved in gospel and it meant a great deal to him."

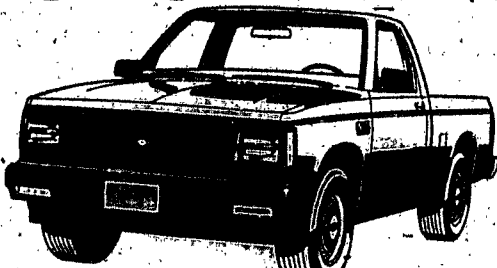

In planning the issue, Thurber contacted Graceland administrators Todd Morgan and Patsy Anderson, who were interested in having this little-known side of Presley explored. Morgan and Anderson allowed Thurber to select unpublished pictures of Presley from the Graceland photo files. In addition to the Graceland pictures, James Blackwood of the Blackwood Brothers—frequent backup singers for Elvis, who are also featured in the August issue—shared photographs from his collection.

Other articles in the issue cover DeGarmo and Key, contemporary Christian musicians influenced by the King; black gospel quartets in Memphis; and George Beverly Shea, a singer with the Billy Graham crusade who introduced "How Great Thou Art."

Rejoice! is available at bookstores and from the Center of the Study of Southern Culture, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677, telephone 1-232-5993.
